Renewal

So much to celebrate as this new season arrives! Happy Winter Solstice, Happy

Yule Time, Happy Hanukah, and Merry Christmas, plus a hearty Happy New Year. Let's hope 2020 grants us perfect clarity of vision to see our resolutions through.

And Happy Birthday to all the Capricorns! According to the Wisdom Wheel, we've just entered the Renewal time of year, which corresponds to their star sign, on the matching sky wheels of astrology.

Writing News

When temperatures fall, and the snow starts piling up (in our hemisphere), it's time for hibernation. Uninterrupted peace and quiet makes Renewal possible. I am downshifting until spring. Doing less marketing and publicity in the outer world, so there's more inner room for the regenerative work of writing. The next memoir is slowly taking shape and must have priority. The initial pages of the first draft received encouraging feedback this week at our brand new Book Writers group.

Stay tuned for the release date of the Measuring Distances poetry book.
