Publishing News

We interrupt your regularly scheduled news broadcasts, and coronavirus pandemic updates, to whisk you to off to Paris. Without breaking rules or endangering anyone, you can escape from lockdown and social distance restrictions and be blissfully teleported to another time and place. All for less than a dollar an hour! And my voice will keep you there for almost 20 hours of mesmerizing storytelling.

Yes, Amazon has finally made my audio version of The Importance of Paris memoir available! A weird sort of birthday gift, but in such strange times, I'll take it and share it.

Listen to a sample and consider it a virtual slice of celebratory birthday cake during these crazy times. My Paris days were challenging too but in the end I was profoundly healed. You may gain some lasting comfort from hearing about them.

Ceremonies

"Little did I know how my vision quest so many years ago would have prepared me for this time. I go back to those days often lately. Thank you for your wisdom. Miss you my friend and teacher...xoxo." — Terry Giza, psychologist

Wonderful to hear of the lasting benefits our students and participants have received over the years. This is another reason why we continue to conduct our Purification ceremonies (aka sweat lodges) as promised, including the most recent one on April 5th. Sunday May 3rd is the next one. How much longer till others can physically participate again?
